

LING 305W

Advanced Composition

COURSE DESCRIPTION

LING 305W is an advanced composition course intended for multilingual students who desire additional support in the English language. The focus is on academic and professional writing that you will do at the university level and beyond.

In this course, you will learn to write a variety of academic and professional texts. You will also improve your ability to recognize and edit your written English. But most importantly, the course assignments are tailored to your own majors and career interests.

WHO CAN TAKE THE COURSE?

LING 305W is designed for our diverse multilingual population at SDSU. It might be the right course for you:

- If much of your education was in a language other than English
- If you are an international student
- If you speak a language other than English at home or in your community
- If you were in a class for English Language Learners (ELL) or English as a Second Language (ESL) in high school or community college (including freshman composition)
- If you are a multilingual student who would like additional support in the English language (even if you have never been in a class for English language learners)

WHAT REQUIREMENTS DOES THE COURSE MEET?

LING 305W meets the upper division writing requirement and the graduation writing assessment requirement for students who have completed 60 units.

ABOUT OUR INSTRUCTORS

LING 305W is taught by instructors who specialize in teaching English to multilingual students. They have expertise in recognizing the strengths and meeting the needs of multilingual writers and adapt instruction accordingly.

SDSU

College of Arts and Letters
Linguistics and
Asian/Middle Eastern Languages

MORE INFORMATION

Dr. Naseh Shahri
nshahri@sdsu.edu