

SPRING
2024

LCS 300: LANGUAGE, CULTURE, AND SOCIETY

Study the issues of language, culture, & society:

- dialect variation
- bilingualism
- language policy and ideology
- language in sexism and racism
- preservation of endangered languages

You'll learn:

- how language use relates to social factors such as gender, class and ethnicity
- how language is used for the social construction of reality
- how communities form and promote ideology about language use
- how people use language to accomplish social and cultural goals
- how language is implicated in social justice and power, especially in a multilingual society
- a range of other topics at the intersection of Sociolinguistics and Linguistic Anthropology

QUESTIONS?

Email Professor Dinkin at adinkin@sdsu.edu

cal.sdsu.edu/language-and-culture

PROFESSOR
AARON DINKIN

NEW course required for the NEW Language,
Culture, and Society
Major

TUES/THURS
2:00 - 3:15 PM

LOCATION:
LH 412

PREREQUISITES:
LING 101
AND ANTHRO 102
OR PERMISSION OF
THE INSTRUCTOR

SDSU

College of Arts and Letters
Linguistics and Asian/Middle Eastern Languages