

Curricular Matrix for the major in Language, Culture, and Society

This curricular matrix illustrates where degree learning outcomes are introduced (I), developed (D) and mastered (M) in required courses and 500-level elective courses.

Student Learning Outcomes	LCS 300	ANTH 303	ANTH 304	LING 363	ANTH 410	LING 420	LING 460	LCS 483	LING 501	LING 502	LING 526	LING 551	LING 553
Evaluate analyses of language data and their relevance to issues of culture and society.	I		D	M	I	I	M	M	I	D	M	M	M
Design hypotheses for exploring the functions of language use in varying social contexts		I	I		I	I		M	I	D	M
Conduct analyses of linguistic, cultural, and social features using frameworks appropriate for questions being explored.		D	I	D	I		D	M			M	D
Describe the social functions of language in various cultural contexts.	I		D	D	D	I	D	M	I	D	M	D	D
Identify problems in social justice and power especially in multilingual and multicultural societies but also present in mono-cultural communities.	I		D	M	D	I	M	M	I		M	D
Articulate in spoken and written academic discourse the results and societal implications of studies exploring facets of the intersection of language, culture and society	I	D	D		D			M			M	D	D
Demonstrate an understanding of the contributions of the disciplines of anthropology and linguistics to explorations of issues in language, culture, and society	I	M	I	D	I		D	M			D
Refute myths about the language of stigmatized groups and myths about people who use stigmatized forms of language.	I		I	M	I	D	M	D	D		D	M
Employ concepts and perspectives in language studies to propose solutions to a problem involving language, culture and society.	I			M	D	D	M	M	D		D		D