LEARN TO ANALYZE TEXTS AND TALK!

Use frameworks of discourse analysis such as genre analysis, critical discourse analysis, narrative analysis, and speech act theory to analyze various kinds of texts and talk (Facebook posts, death row last statements, recipes, research articles, children's stories, news reports, commencement speeches, everyday conversations, and more!)

Learn how texts and talk construct and reproduce identities, power relations, and ideologies in society. Explore how the norms for texts and talk vary across cultures and communities.
