Earn your

Master of Arts in Linguistics at

San Diego State University

With specializations in General Linguistics and TESOL/Applied Linguistics and certificates in TESL/TEFL, Computational Linguistics, and Text Analytics, the MA program in Linguistics at San Diego State University prepares students for doctoral study in Linguistics and related fields and for a variety of careers in teaching and industry.

STUDENTS CAN...

• take courses in all areas of linguistics including syntax, phonology, morphology, semantics, pragmatics, discourse, computational linguistics, corpus linguistics, sociolinguistics, psycholinguistics, second language acquisition, and TESOL, among others
• obtain research experience, including in faculty labs
• teach ESL composition, introductory linguistics, and foreign languages
• study in a diverse and inclusive environment

RECENT GRADUATES HAVE GONE ON TO...

• PhD programs at Georgetown, Ohio State, Michigan, USC, and others
• Fulbright and English Language Fellow teaching programs
• tenure-track and administrative positions in community colleges
• jobs in industry at NTENT, Google, and others

APPLICATION DEADLINES

PRIORITY DEADLINE
February 15

REGULAR DEADLINE
March 1

PROGRAM
2 years (full time)
30 units (10 courses)
MA exam or thesis

CONTACT
Prof. Gregory D. Keating
gkeating@sdsu.edu

linguistics.sdsu.edu